

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

1 Disclosed herein is a necklace to which interchangeable entertaining objects can be attached
2 to entertain infants and young children while being held by a person, allowing the person to focus on 3 other tasks. The necklace may have a clip, clasp or similar device to which the interchangeable
4 entertaining objects are attached. The interchangeable entertaining objects may be equipped with a
5 suitable mounting system, such as a pierced hole, for attachment to the clip, clasp or similar device.
6 The objects may be interchangeable, and multiple objects may be attached simultaneously. The 7 objects may be made of any desired decorative appearance and materials.
